

At their 2023 annual gathering, the Southern Baptist Convention approved a change to the 2000 Baptist Faith and Message that expanded the language of those roles that were limited to men so that it no longer just said “pastor” but “paster/elder/overseer.” Since the 2000 Baptist Faith and Message serves as a guide for determining which churches are of like faith and practice, some did not believe the constitutional change was necessary as this document already outlines that women are not allowed to serve in these roles.

Here is the section of the 2000 Baptist Faith and Message as amended last year.

VI. The Church

A New Testament church of the Lord Jesus Christ is an autonomous local congregation of baptized believers, associated by covenant in the faith and fellowship of the gospel; observing the two ordinances of Christ, governed by His laws, exercising the gifts, rights, and privileges invested in them by His Word, and seeking to extend the gospel to the ends of the earth. Each congregation operates under the Lordship of Christ through democratic processes. In such a congregation each member is responsible and accountable to Christ as Lord. Its two scriptural offices are that of pastor/elder/overseer and deacon. While both men and women are gifted for service in the church, the office of pastor/elder/overseer is limited to men as qualified by Scripture.

The New Testament speaks also of the church as the Body of Christ which includes all of the redeemed of all the ages, believers from every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation.
